RUSSIA ABOUT TO SPRING NEW TRICK THE BRITISH AVER

Information Is the Bear Will Be Busy This Winter Instead of Sleeping

NUMBERLESS TROOPS READY?

It Is Reported the Czar Has Three Million Men and Plenty of Supplies For Campaign

BY ED L. KEEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, Nov. 27.—"Watch Russia." This is the word that came today from a reliable source. It lent strength to the rumors that have been circulating among military men for several days that the eastern front will produce one of the greatest campaigns of the war this winter.

Reports that the Germans have evacuated Mitau and are drawing back along a wide front from Riga region brought further confirmation. It is no longer a military secret here that the Russian line has been strengthened two-fold by the arrival of fresh troops, large supplies of ammunition and big guns.

The war of the Balkans, now engrossing public attention, will soon fade from the limelight, it is believed here. The ferocious fighting of the past few weeks will give way to desultory trench battling. The Franco-Flanders front is expected to produce no more big drives from either side until next spring.

Preparing New Offensive?

The task of furnishing the real talk of the war this winter, according to London rumors, is reserved for the czar's new armies of three million men. Russia is preparing for a new offensive, it is hinted here, that will sweep down a narrow front toward Prussia.

Corps after corps of the newest Russian legions, from the Steppes of Siberia, the great province of Archangel and the provinces of Vologoa, Viatka, and Perm, fearless fighters, trained and well equipped, are moving toward the Russian front, ready to join hands with Germany's worst enemy, winter.

Germans Intact is Opinion

Reports that the German and Austrian ranks in the east are beginning to thin are not credited here. But the thing that enabled the Germans to make their great drive through Poland last spring and summer—preponderance of heavy guns and munitions, is counted upon to give the Russians the advantage when they begin to drive them back.

KENOSHA FIRM HAS PROCESS TO MAKE MUCH-NEEDED DYES

KENOSHA, Wis., Nov. 27.—After experimenting four months, the Chicago-Kenosha Hosiery company announced today that a process for the manufacture of analine black dye, heretofore made only in Germany, has been discovered. Roger N. Kimball, president of the company, said that the concern had spent $25,000 in procuring the German formulas. Benzol, sulphuric and nitric acid and iron borings are used in making the dye. These are the ingredients which have been used by the Germans. The company is now making plans for the erection of a large plant for the manufacture of the dye.

LONDON HAS LOTS OF FUN OVER PEACE PLAN ADVANCED BY FORD

HOW LONDON HEADLINERS VIEW FORD PEACE PLAN

Pro-German peace cruise—London Standard.
Ford's Atlantic joy ride—London Telegraph.
Funny Mr. Ford—London Evening News.
Ford cranks.—London Sketch.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—"An advertising scheme," is the general verdict in England on Henry Ford's projected peace cruise.

Officialdom and the press do not seem resentful of the American millionaire's efforts to end the war but they are both outspoken in ridiculing his program and a good many are equally free in questioning his sincerity.

"This really is the silliest idea," said one man high in official life today. "People who associate themselves with it will find absolutely no sympathy with their plans among sensible individuals in Europe—except perhaps among our enemies who apparently want peace."

"Ford simply is an adroit advertiser."

"A gallery play to the world through the medium of his newly made riches," was the comment from another critic, also in official life.

CARDINAL ADMIRES FORD BUT CALLS PLAN PREMATURE

He Thinks There Are Too Many Difficulties Ahead Now for Peace Work

'OUT OF TRENCHES BY CHRISTMAS'

Ford Has that Hope According to Speech Made to Peace Workers of the Capital

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 27.—Cardinal Gibbons today gave the United Press this exclusive statement:

"I could not help but admire Mr. Ford for his roseate views of the future. But I told him that I fear there are many rocks ahead to impede the progress of his journey and to prevent the success of his devout wishes."

Ford and the cardinal talked together a half hour. They discussed many subjects other than peace. Ford did not present an invitation to the cardinal to accompany his ship, on account of the prelate's age.

Ford Leaves Capital

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—After having helped stir peace sentiment in Washington up to the highest pitch it has reached, perhaps, since the world war broke, Henry Ford early today slipped away to Baltimore to confer with Cardinal Gibbons.

Ford has not done much except just to be here. That was enough. Women workers for peace had arranged as their climax a great mass meeting to adopt resolutions asking President Wilson to act. The presence of Ford made the mass meeting a tremendous event. He made a speech of seventeen words—and the first he ever made. This is it:

"Out of the trenches by Christmas—never to return; this is my message to peace-loving America."

The speech and his announcement that he has the signature of officials of several of the warring nations endorsing his plan were the principal contributions of the multi-millionaire manufacturer to the peace upheaval.

WISDOM CASE IS TRANSFERRED TO PRAIRIE DU CHIEN

Judge Higbee Makes Suggestion Because of Expense of Bringing Witnesses Here

A change of venue to Prairie du Chien, where further testimony will be taken, was agreed upon in circuit court this morning at the suggestion of Judge E. C. Higbee, in the case of Wealthy Jane Wisdom against James Wisdom, in settlement of the Wisdom estate of Boscobel.

The suggestion was made by Judge Higbee after the attorneys for both sides had rested, because of the large expense item incurred in bringing witnesses to this city. The case primarily involves residents of Boscobel, Wis., which is located about thirty miles northeast of Prairie du Chien. Judge Higbee volunteered to sit at a session of the court at Prairie du Chien, probably in December. The date will be set by the judge.

The case is the settlement of the estate of Frank Wisdom, in which James Wisdom is charged by his step-mother, with using undue influence in the disposition of the property.

John J. Blaine, chief counsel for James Wisdom, defendant, asked that in the settlement of the property, the sum of $2,000 be set aside to cover costs of two years' taxes, which remain unpaid, executor's fees, defendant's attorneys' fees, and the disbursements made by him during the entire litigation, for which he had not been compensated.

ALLEGED TUNNEL CITY SLAVER IS SENT TO MADISON

Ludin Miller Will Stand Trial Next Month Before Grand Jury There

TUNNEL CITY GIRL IN CASE

He Is Alleged to Have Taken Girl to Minneapolis Promising Big Wages

Charged with violating the Mann white slave act in inducing Miss Bertha Berkhalter to leave her home near Tunnel City, and go with him to Minneapolis, where she would be given work at large wages, Ludin Miller was brought before United States Court Commissioner Alfred Harrison this morning, by Deputy United States Marshal Carl P. McAssey of Madison. Court Commissioner Harrison placed bail in the case at $1,000. He was remanded to the Dane county jail at Madison to await the action of the grand jury which meets sometime next month at Madison. He was committed to the jail at Madison when he was unable to furnish bail.

Miller is alleged to have induced Miss Berkhalter, 17 year old Tunnel City girl, to go to the Mill City with him, and to have paid her transportation. He represented, according to the girl, that he would place her with a concern in Minneapolis where she would be given unusually good wages. She claims that before arriving in Minneapolis, he induced her to turn over her watch and money to him for safekeeping, and that he then took her to a rooming house. She discovered the nature of the place and escaped. She notified her father of the developments, and of Miller's real intentions toward her. She was later taken to her home by her father.

Following his Beloit speech, Senator La Follette will return to Madison and leave almost immediately for Washington, D. C., to attend the opening of congress. On December 6 he will present U. S. Senator Paul O. Husting of Mayville to the senate.

It has been intimated that Senator La Follette will return to Wisconsin and continue his speaking tour, making addresses in every section of the state.

WED IN LA CROSSE ON GOPHER LICENSE

It was discovered yesterday that a clergyman of this city recently performed a marriage ceremony in La Crosse upon the authority of a Minnesota license. The legality of the union is questioned. Since all was in good faith on the part both of the pastor and the contracting parties, officials would not divulge the names of either.

There will be two performances, and an opportunity for all who have not seen this splendid feature film to enjoy the genius of Mr. Walker Whiteside whose fame in the play is international. Without reserve, patrons of the Majestic pronounce the play one of the greatest of the season, and particularly is the music commended.

GERMANIC ALLIES CONTROL PLAIN OF THE BLACKBIRDS

Organized Opposition to Them is Thing of Past and Serbs Become Guerillas

MORE SUCCESSES FOR AUSTRIANS

Invaders Attempt to Cut off Escape of Serbs Into Albania

ATHENS, Nov. 27.—The Serbs captured Krushevo, south of Prilep, from the Bulgarians today, it is reported here.

VIENNA, via Berlin and London, Nov. 27.—The Germanic allies control the whole of the Blackbirds plain today. Official reports say they are now beating the country between the plain and the Montenegrin frontier for fleeing Serb detachments. Organized opposition to the invasion appears to have disappeared entirely in northern Serbia.

The Serb army, as predicted, has broken into guerilla bands. With these considerable trouble is being experienced. They are familiar with the country and are constantly ambushing and cutting up small German, Austrian and Bulgar bodies of troops. Against the main Teutonic forces they no longer attempt stand up fighting.

The Germans' aim is to prevent the broken remnant of the northern Serb army from getting through Montenegro and Albania to the force in the south, in which case it would be necessary to defeat it again. Montenegrins who made a dash through the Austrian, lines into the Sanjak, encountered an Austrian force south of Novibazar, twenty miles from their frontier and were routed after a desperate fight.

Advanced Austrian forces are now approaching the Mokra region, which lies on both sides of the Serbo-Montenegrin frontier west of Mitrovitza. It is expected they will cross the border in pursuit of the fugitives who are heading apparently for the northern slopes of the north Albanian alps.

Austrians have recaptured Cajnica from the Montenegrins. The town is in Austrian territory, between the upper Drina and the extreme northern triangle of Montenegro. The Montenegrins captured it by a sudden raid early in the war, before Austrian troops were numerous in the region, fortified it strongly and, helped by its naturally almost inaccessible position, have held it ever since.

Serb Prisoners 101,000

BERLIN, via Sayville Wireless, Nov. 27.—Serb prisoners in German, Austrian and Bulgarian hands now number 101,000 headquarters reports to the war office today.

With the Teutonic conquest of the Blackbirds plain, two thousand Germans and Austrians whom the Serbs had captured, were released, the Serbs abandoning them in their flight, the statement said.

Capture of Pristina and Mitrovitza gave the invaders possession of the last section of the Uskub-Mitrovitza railroad.

HOUSTON PRESIDENT PRO TEM

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Secretary of Agriculture Houston was acting president today while President Wilson and almost the entire cabinet were at the Army-Navy football game. Vice President Marshall is in Indianapolis.

Mahoney's 56 And In Good Fighting Trim He Declares

He's in good fighting condition today, right in the pink, even if he is 56. He said so himself this morning.

Who? Why, Alderman Paul W. Mahoney of the Nineteenth, of course. Mr. Mahoney was born in Madison, Dane county, Wis., Nov. 27, 1859.

It's thirty years since Alderman Mahoney, then a fledgling barrister one week admitted to the bar, came to La Crosse to hang out his shingle. He is a self-made man, with a public school education. He learned his law in the office of Bleekman and Bloomingdale at Sparta, and John J. Esch, representative of this district, studied with him in the same office.

Since his arrival here Paul Mahoney has been interested, to say the least, in public affairs. He came here

Alderman Paul Mahoney of the Nineteenth Ward

November 7, 1885. In April, 1888, he was elected to the council for the first time, as alderman from the same district he represents today, although then it was the Ninth, not having been split up as happened a few years later. He served two terms that time, and was on the committee which recommended and supervised the construction of the wagon bridge.

After he left the council then, he was made a member of the school board, a post he held for seven years, three of which he was president of the body.

In April, 1903 he became city attorney, and was the city's legal advisor until April, 1907. In 1911 he resumed his aldermanic seat in the council, and has remained ever since, champion of the north side, guardian of the treasury, the "great objector."

His later service in the council has been particularly marked by his services as chairman of the special water committee, that handled the affairs of the water system all through the big fight until the completion of the million-dollar plant now in operation.

As for lodges, Paul's a "jiner." He is past master of the Masonic order, past chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, after having been through all the chairs, and he at present is grand master, supreme head of the Odd Fellows of Wisconsin.

SOLDIER KILLED WHEN VILLA MEN START TROUBLE

Stephen Littles of Virginia Dead; Two Other Soldiers Are Wounded

NOGALES, Ariz., Nov. 27.—One United States soldier was killed, two were wounded, and twenty Mexicans were killed in the border skirmish here yesterday. The American victims were:

Dead

Stephen Littles, aged 22, company L, Twelfth infantry; shot through head. Home Fairmont, N. C. Enlisted February, 1914.

Wounded

Herbert L. Cates, aged 25, company L, Twelfth infantry; shot twice in abdomen and hips; recovery doubtful. Home, Swepsonville, N. C.; second enlistment.

Arthur L. Saupe, aged 19, company L, Twelfth infantry; shot right foot. Home, Vernon, Ind.

No More Trouble Anticipated

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The crisis in conflicts between Villa and American troops at Nogales, Ariz., was believed passed today. General Funston wired that yesterday's firing upon the American patrol was by irresponsible stragglers from Villa's army in its evacuation of Nogales. Carranza's army was in complete possession of Nogales today.

Villa Desperate

State and war department dispatches today reported Villa in desperate straits.

REPORTED PACT WITH ALLIES IS DENIED AT ATHENS

Correspondent For Berlin Paper Says Efforts of Entente Have Failed

ALLIES PLAN NEW CAMPAIGN

Troops Are Being Landed Steadily, Says Paris, For Aid of the Serbs

BERLIN, via Sayville Wireless, Nov. 27.—Contradicting allied assertions that Greece and the entente powers have reached an agreement, Athens dispatches in the Frankfurter Zeitung today declare Lord Kitchener's mission failed and that the Greeks now expect an ultimatum and withdrawal of the allies' diplomatic representatives.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—An allied offensive on a large scale seemingly is about to begin in the Balkans.

British troops, hitherto in small force as compared with the French in the near east, are reported landing in large numbers today at Salonika. The Serb line before Monastir is holding firm. Train loads of allied soldiers are arriving in the town to aid in the defense. News that French aviators have bombarded Strumnitza furnished the first assurance in several days that operations in southwestern Bulgaria are still progressing.

Athens advices report the beginning of a partial demobilization of the Greek army, guaranteeing the allies more satisfactorily than through any mere diplomatic pledge against outside interference with their Balkan plans.

Russian accounts of the failure of attempted Austrian and German offensives in Galicia and Volhynia were accepted as meaning a checkmate of any Teutonic plan to divert the czar from invading Bulgaria throug Rumania.

Despite Rumania's reiterated determination to remain neutral an early consent is expected from Bucharest for the Russians' passage to the Bulgar frontier.

Italian Aid Thought Certain

LONDON, Nov. 27.—That Italy, which has hitherto played practically a lone hand in the European war, will co-operate fully with the entente powers henceforward, is confidently expected here today as a sequel to Lord Kitchener's visit to Rome.

The allies did not greatly feel the need of Italian aid until the German drive through the Balkans began. Owing both to Italy's geographical position and to the fact she can spare a large number of troops for a new campaign, her assistance in the near east would now, however, be valuable.

It is to enlist Italian aid that it is believed Kitchener is in Italy and the opinion is general here that he will be successful. Diplomats say that the main thing will be to satisfy the Italians that they will get the possessions they want on the Balkan peninsula and in Asia Minor even though the Greeks should tardily join the allies.

ALLEGED PLOTTER OF COAST TO GO ON TRIAL DEC. 3

San Francisco Man Is Charged with Plots Against the Allies

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 27.—Admittedly a German agent spying here on allies' activities in the United States, Charles C. Crowley was slated today for a hearing December 3 on charges of plotting to dynamite allies' supply ships and destroy American munition factories. These charges Crowley and his lawyers emphatically denied. Crowley was at liberty under $5,000 bonds.

Federal officials who caused Crowley's arrest hinted that a woman assisted Crowley. That he "double-crossed" the German consul in San Francisco, his employer, was also intimated, federal officials hinting that Crowley collected moneys from bomb plots never executed.

MUSIC IMPORTANT FEATURE OF THE TRIANGLE PLAYS

It Is Carefully Tailored to Fit Each of the Remarkable Films to Be Shown Here

The Majestic Theater's five-piece orchestra, led by John Andre, which is known to vaudeville artists as one of the most flexible and smoothest-working in this part of the country, has been busy this week rehearsing the special music which will accompany the Triangle pictures which will make their debut in La Crosse next Monday. Like all of the other angles of the Triangle service, the music is different and distinctive. Each picture has its own special combination of arrangement and original compositions, synchronized with the play is accompanied. Such careful handling does the music require, that it is released a week in advance of the pictures in order to allow the orchestra to familiarize itself with its requirements.

The music for Triangle photoplays is carefully tailored to fit each production by William Furst, one of New York's recognized musicians. It interprets and blends with each picture. This requires that it be timed to fit the action, and for this reason the Majestic has installed two projecting machines and two operators in its machine booth. There will be no waits to change reels in Triangle pictures. As fast as one machine runs out its celluloid ribbon, the second, already loaded", takes up the work.

The "two dollar movies for a dime" make their bow with Dustin Farnum and Raymond Hitchcock, long stars of the spoken drama, as leaders. Farnum plays in "The Iron Strain", a drama of primitive life and red blood, staged in the far north. In it Farnum is at his best, and he has a worthy vehicle and excellent photography to widen his scope.

"My Valet" is Hitchcock's opportunity. In it he has the combined advantages of a highly humorous story and team-mates of the best the films afford. Mack Sennett, father of Keystone comedy, and Miss Mabel Normand, the famous comedienne of the movies, play with him in a three-reel, joyous succession of funny situations that opens with a titter and ends with a roar.

Nine reels will make up the opening Triangle program. "My Valet" has three, and there is enough action in "The Iron Strain" to require six reels of celluloid ribbon for its projection.

CHICAGO GREAT HORSE MARKET

(United Press Correspondence.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Chicago today is the greatest horse market in the world. More than 100,000 horses have sold for $12,000,000 through the local market in the last six months. The European war's demand for artillery and cavalry mounts is responsible for this return of King Horse to the throne from which the automobile spilled him.

Demands from Mexico have added not a little to the business in horses here. At first, agents for the European governments were secretive about purchases. Everyone knew horses were being bought but few persons ever saw the agents. It was while the allies' agents were buying incognito that the record sale of 7,031 horses in one week was made, in November, 1914. Now the agents buy openly. During the week ending November 6, 5,000 horses were sold. In the same period two years ago 829 horses was considered a good number to sell per week. From 3,000 to 4,000 horses sold weekly these days, is an average.

The horses bring $120 to $240 a head; $250 being paid for artillery horses. Draft horses sell for from $200 to $300 a head; $300 being paid for horses of between 1,550 to 1,750 pounds. There have been innumerable spy scares at the yards and vigorous measures of protection have been adopted, but there have been no arrests.

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

A WIG IN THE WIND

BY CATHERINE CRANMER

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"Grace, we shall never reach the rock road before the storm breaks," said Mrs. Allison-Dodge with an anxious glance that took in the darkening clouds, the speedometer and the dirt road stretching ahead.

"I believe we'll just about make it, Aunt Clara, though we'll get an awful ducking in this open car." Grace sat tense at the wheel and narrowed her eyes to measure the distance to where the rock road began.

Mrs. Allison-Dodge drew her silken coat about her and tightened the soft veil which protected her soft white hair and pink-and-white skin. As president of the board and manager of a fresh-air farm launched by the city's leading clubwomen, she had just met a group of newspaper men at the farm and explained its aims and activities to them.

"Besides being displeased over the prospect of getting wet, and of having my rheumatism return, I'm far more disgusted to think that our being so late is entirely due to your needlessly long explanations about the farm to that reporter with whom you seem determined to put yourself on friendly terms." This comment brought a quick reply from Grace.

"As for the explanations, Aunt Clara, I thought I was helping you to give them, and as for being on friendly terms with Mr. Gray, I know of no reason why I shouldn't be friendly with him, for he is as truly a gentleman as any man I know."

Grace opened a trifle more speed and a drop of rain in Mrs. Allison-Dodge's face cut short her reply to her niece's spirited speech. The clouds darkened, the wind became stronger, and that first drop of rain was followed by other scattered drops. The rock road was now in sight.

A hurried glance over her shoulder showed Grace a covered car approaching from behind. About half a mile after they struck the rock road they came to a blacksmith shop and general store just as the rain began to come down in driving sheets. Without waiting for permission, Grace ran her car under the shed, and a few minutes later the covered car drew up on the sheltered side of the shop. It proved to be the jitney in which the party of reporters had started back to the city. Seeing Mrs. Allison-Dodge in dismay and her niece vainly trying to soothe her, Ashby Gray defied the rain and dashed from the jitney to the shed, offering any assistance possible.

"Rheumatism or no rheumatism," moaned Mrs. Allison-Dodge, "I've simply got to get back at the Alhambra by 6 o'clock, for at 7 I'm to entertain that whole party of visiting civic experts at dinner. What time is it, young man?" Her aunt's imperious tone brought a blush to Grace's face, but without the least sign of perturbation Gray assured her that it was only 4:30. He volunteered the opinion that the storm would be over as quickly as it had begun, but the lady displayed neither interest nor confidence in his opinions.

In her agitation to see whether the storm promised to abate, Mrs. Allison-Dodge lifted her veil to peer at the clouds. A sudden twisting wind swept veil and hat and even the soft white hair from her head. She cried out and grabbed wildly at the moving mass of chiffon and lace and hair, but the wind was stubborn and the veil became tangled, and the lady renowned for her soft white hair and lovely skin stood revealed with a tiny pigtail of gray hair in which a streak of faded brown still showed. Her pink and white skin was furrowed by the unkind rain until it was a caricature of what it had been a few minutes before.

Grace stood as astounded as Ashby Gray, for she had not known that her aunt wore a wig. Except for one discreet hairdresser there was perhaps no one who suspected that the gradual whitening process through which her hair had passed was but the adoption of a series of wigs, each one whiter than its predecessor. After a speechless interval which seemed ages to all three, Grace managed to help adjust the mass of head covering, and with rare tact Gray engaged in a conversation with the jitney driver about the best means of returning to town. A moment later he reported to Grace, who was scanning the clouds anxiously.

"Aunt Clara," began Grace, a moment afterward, "Mr. Gray says it will take an hour to run back to town with the roads as wet as they are, and don't you think you'd better let them take you on in their covered car now and let me come on later when the rain stops?"

"Why, my child, I can't go off and leave you here at the roadside in a blacksmith shop." Then quite desperately, she added: "Neither can I afford to get soaked, nor to fail to be at the Alhambra in time to receive my dinner guests. What shall I do?" The episode of the wig had quite bereft the lady of her accustomed composure.

"May I suggest a means of meeting the situation?" asked Ashby Gray.

Something told Mrs. Allison-Dodge that this was no time to harbor prejudice against would-be suitors for her niece's hand, and certainly no time to risk offending a representative of the press lest she might some day undergo the unspeakable humiliation of seeing somesly allusion to her artificial beauty. Besides, and most of all, she wanted to get home and have in a masseuse and that discreet hairdresser, and keeper's telephone to have the disseveral other people to repair her in time for the evening. She was half inclined to assent to Gray's suggestion that she ride home in the closed jitney, which was to start immediately, and let him remain and come in with her niece after the rain stopped.

"Hurry up, Ashby," called a cub reporter from the jitney, "I've got two assignments waiting for me in town.

But Mrs. Allison-Dodge cared not for cubs and their assignments; the name of Ashby had struck pleasantly on her aristocratic ear.

"Did he call you Ashby? I thought your name was Gray." She looked inquiringly at Gray as Grace buttoned the final button on the rain coat she had taken from her own shoulders to place upon her aunt.

"Ashby Gray," corrected Gray and by way of further explanation, added: "Ashby was my mother's maiden name."

"You don't mean that your mother was Amy Ashby who married Dr. Wellington Gray, the Boston clergyman?"

"Yes," smiled Gray, as the lady's manner melted into effusiveness.

But another yell from the cub reporter brought their conversation to a halt, and five minutes later Mrs. Allison-Dodge was speeding along toward the city to be let out at the fashionable Alhambra from an ordinary jitney, while Grace was making extravagant use of the storecreet hairdresser, the masseuse, and others in readiness to repair damages before the hour for dinner. When she came out she found Ashby Gray examining the brightening skies. It suddenly occurred to her that he might have given up important work to remain there with her.

"I feel that I've no right to accept such a sacrifice from you, Mr. Gray, and if it's important for you to be back in town soon, don't lets wait another minute on account of the rain. I shan't mind how wet I get, for I haven't any rheumatism, and —" she met his smiling eyes with a frankly amused smile, "I haven't any wig."

"You don't have to tell me that," he said laughingly, as he looked admiringly at the bronze-colored mass of hair which the dampness had darkened from a bright copper color and had kinked each loose lock into a tight curl.

"Poor Aunt Clara; she'd never hinted a wig, and what is more, she never will. I'm glad she made friends with you before leaving, for now she will feel that her secret is in the hands of friends only, and—" Grace hesitated and Ashby added: "And therefore quite safe."

Grace telephoned her aunt as soon as she arrived at home.

"I'm home all safe, Aunt Clara; I thought you'd like to know."

"I'm delighted, dearie; and where is that nice Mr. Gray?"

"He's gone home to dry, but he's coming out this evening."

"Bring him over to call on me, won't you?"

"If it clears up, maybe; but there will be lots of other opportunities, Aunt Clara, for he is going to be your nephew."

Hank Tumms couldn't drive the Ford to West Hickeyville yesterday. His wife had it hitched onto the sewin' machine and was makin' a dress.

THE FARMER ARRIVES OVER GOOD ROADS

Ten years ago the Wisconsin farmer had no sound or progressive ideas of road-building, nor did educational propaganda in succeeding years teach him the lesson. It was for this reason that seven years ago the legislature passed the state aid law, providing that there should be paid out of the state treasury one-third of the expense of building any road to the construction of which the county and township each contributed one-third.

Of course it didn't matter that the money was paid out of state funds, for the taxpayer paid it in the end, just the same. But there was in that law a clever little joker which it was believed would start road-building all over the state. The joker was the fact that the farmers of every county must pay their prorata into the state road fund, and the only way they could get it back was to build roads. And since the counties that built most roads would get most of the state fund contributed by all counties alike, the counties at once began to compete in the race for good roads.

The theory was that after such a law had been in force until the farmers became used to building roads and appreciative of their advantages, they would go on building roads regardless of state aid.

The plan has worked out to the letter. La Crosse county has just proved it. The state aid has been reduced, but our supervisors have proceeded to go down into the county's pocket for about $24,000 in excess of the funds to match the available state aid, in order not to halt or retrench their road-building program.

FORGET THE SHRAPNEL AND MAKE PRETZELS

Mr. Hunt also let it be known that he, Hunt, is everlastingly opposed to spending money for preparedness. Does the reverend gentleman realize that by such advocacy he tells the public that the nation should continue to invite greedy or hard-up countries to drop in and catch the first nation of the world unprepared to render them the entertainment deserved—a crushing defeat. —The Sentinel.

It's a standing "invitation" that hasn't been "accepted" for over a century, and the company that played the little matinee in 1812 always have found enough "previous engagements" to excuse their "regrets." True, when we were so busy in '64 they coaxed themselves into a small pet, but burst into effusive good nature when Lee and Grant disengaged themselves and had a slant eastward. Since 1812 we haven't "prepared" as much as have they, but proportionately our "preparedness" is at least as good as Madison found it, and in wealth and population we have grown out of all proportion to European expansion. For the next twenty years the belligerent nations of today are going to be so busy manufacturing wooden legs that they will have little time to make guns, and for at least ten years they'll have the excuse that they can't very well go to war on crutches. They're teaching one another not to suck eggs and we have no need to build fortifications about our hen-coop.

Teach the people to build roads, dear Sentinel, and encourage congress to tell the mushroom shrapnel factories that there's going to be a "sane Fourth" the year round.

NOT CHARITY BUT DUTY

The call of starving Serbia should not be without effective appeal in this country. The picture drawn of the agonies there must reach the heart of every reader in this great and blessed land.

Thursday we gave thanks for the good that is ours, but let us not presume that we are favored of God. We, too, have sins that may overtake us, and "God disposes."

Since in His alwise providence at this time God has spared us war, He has placed upon us the obligation of service. We can not escape responsibility for those who suffer across the water. Should we neglect this our charge, our punishment will come and strike us hard.

Let this people, let us as individuals, give thanks in acts of service —not charity, but duty. Let us rise to the emergency, let us be the "good and faithful servant." In the scheme of creation we are under covenant with the Almighty to feed His sheep.

The bulk of money it is proposed to spend for "preparedness" would build a network of concrete roads weaving together the agricultural districts and markets of all the United States. Think it over.

The Pendulum of Time

I remember back in eighties when Hank Frisby went to school.
Everybody in the village had him doped out fer a fool.
Fer he was so awful homely, all the critics in the place
Said there wasn't no intelligence or larnin' in his face.
He was tall, rawboned and knock-kneed and as awkward as a cow,
And the gals they always passed him
by and never smiled nohow.
He was bashful and was awkward and he seemed to have no vim.
And the fellows 'round the school house always poked their fun at him.

Nothin' much was said about it when he left our town one day.
Hardly anybody knowed the fact that he had gone away.
Once in a while they'd mention Hank and wonder where he went.
But nobody ever found out, fer they didn't care a cent.
Nigh a dozen years passed by and then one day a thing occurred.
And it caused more lively gossip than the town had ever heard.
Great big auto came a-tearin' down
the main street with a yank,
And the feller in the back seat givin' orders—he was Hank.

Hank had gone out west and struck a vein of ore both wide and deep,
And he picked up half a million while our town folks was asleep.
When he jumped out of his auto full of vigor and of vim,
You should have seen the town folks
all a toadyin' to him.
He put up a splendid mansion and he wed the village belle,
And he had his dinner evenings—or at least the servants tell.
He's mayor now and owns a mill, a railrud and a bank,
And there's no one in the village who ain't mighty proud of Hank.

IN SUCH PAIN WOMAN CRIED

Suffered Everything Until Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Florence, So. Dakota.—"I used to be very sick every month with bearing down pains and backache, and had headache a good deal of the time and very little appetite. The pains were so bad that I used to sit right down on the floor and cry, because it hurt me so and I could not do any work at those times. An old woman advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I got a bottle. I felt better the next month so I took three more bottles of it and got well so I could work all the time. I hope every woman who suffers like I did will try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. P. W. LANSENG, Box 8, Allyn, Wash.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Constant Reminders

An heiress, whose father had made a fortune in the rag-and-bone business, had promised her hand and the said fortune to a poor but deserving peer.

"Do you think of me often?" she cooed, as they sat side by side on a settee.

The poor but deserving peer nodded absently.

"Very often dear," he replied, dreamily. "I think of you whenever I see one of my creditors, and goodness knows that's often enough."

MALE INSTRUCTORS NEEDED IS CLAIM

National Education Commissioner Says the West Is Far Ahead of East in Education

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 27.—"We need more men teachers for our children; men teachers well enough paid to own a small farm, for this would not only stabilize the profession but also give the teachers an incentive to become actively identified with every interest of his community, which is imperative."

Such was the statement of United States Education Commissioner Dr. Philander P. Claxon, just returned from a three months' tour of the west. He continued:

"In all fairness I must say that the west is educationally far ahead of the east. There are fewer children there, but proportionately speaking the west does not stint in taxation for educational purposes. The children there have the benefit of every educational advantage that money and science can produce.

"For example, Oregon leads all states of the Union in giving school credit for industrial work done in the home. Oregon therefore is developing thrift and vocation to an unusual extent in the pupils of the public schools.

"The state of Washington leads the country in the number of homes for teachers, and as a consequence is giving stability to the profession of public school teaching. If to these homes, school farms of from five to fifty acres could be added, men would be glad in many instances, to make teaching their business.

"We must have teachers who will become identified with the interests of the community. Washington and other western states, particularly Minnesota, are solving these problems by their teacher-cottage systems in rural communities.

California Praised

"California pays its teachers better than any other state. The average salary of public school teachers, including rural and urban throughout the country is $490; California pays an average of $950.

"Special mention should be made of the western farm schools. These are not strictly vocational, but they aim to industralize teaching, making it not only practical, but by means of this kind of teaching preparing pupils for community life. Such a school plan approaches pretty nearly ideal rural conditions."

After remarking the attractive city and state showing of New York in the exposition's educational section, Dr. Claxton praised the growth of the library movement in rural communities, as demonstrated there.

Is For Rural Library System

"The latest and most successful type of rural educational work is the country library system," he said. "The method in California particularly has been so satisfactory and extensive as to excite the interest of the whole country. The entire state will soon be served by the system. Already 32 out of the 38 counties have been organized—some of them the most mountainous and sparsely settled in the state. The county is the unit and each organizes within itself.

Dr. Claxton said that never before have parents had such abundant opportunities as today to choose the kind of school best fitted for their children, that educational opportunities are within the reach of all.

SECRETARY OF THE GOVERNOR RESIGNS

Pixley Will Take Up the Post of Press Agent for Philipp with String of Papers

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 27.—B. B. Pixley, private secretary to Governor Philipp, resigned his position yesterday, according to an official announcement made from the executive office last night. Mr. Pixley will be Madison correspondent for a string of Wisconsin newspapers, according to reports.

This action, which comes as a surprice in capitol circles is taken as evidence of the efforts being made by the conservative wing of the republican party to build up a strong state machine through the newspapers. Mr. Pixley will probably act as press agent for the governor. He is a newspaper man of considerable experience, having been assistant managing editor of the Milwaukee Sentinel at the time of his appointment.

No successor to Secretary Pixley has been chosen as yet, according to official information.

OUCH! LUMBAGO! RUB PAINS FROM SORE, LAME BACK

Rub Backache away with small trial bottle of old "St. Jacob's Oil."

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica or maybe from a strain, and you'll get relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil." Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on your back and out comes the pain. It is harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Limber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years.

J. H. Benson officiating. Burial was made in Oak Grove cemetery.

The pallbearers were J. McDonald, J. G. Dubraks, Archie Mosher, J. Engelstad, H. Van Burg and Philip Linker.

"So your son's in college, eh? Burning the midnight oil, I s'pose?"

AT ONCE! STOPS STOMACH MISERY AND INDIGESTION
"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy Stomachs feel fine.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, jot this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

MICHELIN DEVELOPS NEW TYPE OF TIRE

A genuine sensation has been caused in the tire trade following an announcement by the Michelin Tire company that they have perfected an entirely new type of tire known as the Michelin Universal Tread. This new casing has been developed so quietly that nothing has been known about it even in the trade, yet the company states that it is the result of experiments and tests covering a period of over three years.

These tests were conducted on the public roads in the vicinity of the factory, and were most thorough and interesting. For example during the testing period all the buesses owned by the Brunswick Motor company were equipped with these new casings These vehicles cover one hundred and ninety-two miles daily, not only over the fine macadam roads between New Brunswick, Metuchen and Plainfield, N. J., but also over the rough and sandy roads on the South River, Old Bridge, Spotswood, Englishtown and Freehold route. These severe tests were continued daily, both summer and winter. Then again private cars belonging to executives of the company were fitted with Universal Treads, one of these a seven passenger Lozier used as a testing car, having been driven over one hundred miles daily, excepting Sundays and holidays for over two years.

The Universal Tread is really a combination of the Michelin racing type flat tread, having the same characteristic heavy added tread, and the Michelin plain tread, a full round tire of the so-called "oversize" type. The non skid feature is a combination of the raised or studded tread non skid, with the flat or suction tread type. The Michelin company is very conservative in offering this new casing to the public only after three years of careful tests of the most exhaustive kind. Word from the factory indicates that a very large demand for this new casing is already assured.

SERVICE TEAMS CLASH BEFORE NATION'S ELITE

President Wilson and Mrs. Torman Galt See Army-Navy Game

Final score: Army 14; Navy 0.

BY FRED S. FERGUSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—In a steady drizzling rain, the Army and Navy met here this afternoon for their annual football clash before a celebrated but water-soaked crowd of civilians and government officials. President Wilson and his fiance,, Mrs. Norman Galt, heads of various departments and army and navy officers and representatives of the entire governmental machinery, sat on damp seats and cheered the country's future fighters as they struggled on the slippery field.

First period—Army won the toss and chose to kick off to the Navy defending the east goal. Oliphant kicked to Craig who was downed after returning the ball five yards to his thirty-nine yard line. Westphal made seven yards through right tackle. Davis added ten more through the opposite side.

A fake kick formation failed to gain. Von Heimberg punted to Oliphant, who was downed on his own thirty yard line. Gerhardt failed to gain. Coffin punted to Craig, who was downed without return on the Navy's forty-five yard line.

Martin gained three yards through center. Westphal failed to gain. Von Heimberg punted to Oliphant, who made a remarkable run through a broken field for a tyenty yard run, putting the ball on Army's forty yard line. Gerhardt made three yards.

Coffin punted and on a fumble the Army recovered the ball on Navy's five yard line. Milan fell on the ball for the Army. A line smash by Ford failed to gain and Navy opened a fight in the shadow of their goal posts.

Oliphant and Coffin alternated with line plunges, gaining two yards. Oliphant ran over for the first touchdown down a smash through right tackle. Oliphant kicked goal. Score: Army, 7; Navy, 0.

Second period—Von Heimberg immediately punted to Oliphant, who was downed without return. Coffin also punted. A fumble which the Navy recovered, and a penalty for the Army put the ball in Navy's possession on the Army's thirty-five yard line. An incompleted forward pass was followed by a wide end run attempt by Davis, but it lost ground.

Oliphant Scores Again

Third period—Coffin kicked off to Craig who returned the ball thirty-five yards to midfield. Westphal failed to gain. McEwan intercepted a forward pass for the Army and ran the ball back thirty-five yards, putting it on Navy's twenty-five yard line

Oliphant was held. On a second try Oliphant dashed through left tackle and then worming his way through the secondary defense scored the Army's second touchdown. His run was for twenty-five yards. Oliphant kicked goal Score: Army, 14; Navy, 0

DUNN WILL NAME NEW MEDIUM FOR HUMAN HAPPINESS

He Will Attempt to Prove Public Ownership Will Not Be Solution of Problem

"Is human happiness obtained by establishing national, owned utilities, or is there a shorter, more practical route to the same goal?"

This is the question that will be thrashed out at 3:30 tomorrow in the Open Forum at the Universalist church, corner Eighth and Cass streets. A highly interesting discussion is expected when President Moncena Dunn will attempt to establish his theories on the shorter method while Prof. F. E. Nurse and Sam Johnson will take up cudgels for the predictions of the normal school professor made some time ago.

The prediction for Utopian conditions to arrive over the route of national ownership in the year 2,000 by Prof. Nurse three weeks ago will be dissected by President Moncena Dunn, to be followed by Prof. Nurse and Sam A. Johnson. President Dunn's contention will be that the aforesaid conditions will arrive much sooner; in fact are arriving daily over an entirely different route. Prof. Nurse and Mr. Johnson will defend the original contention that government ownership is the only escape from injustice now complained of.

Dunn promises to shoot the Marxian political science so full of holes that it will need fixing, and do it without detracting from the picture of happiness depicted three weeks ago by Prof. Nurse. The Forum is free to all; a large attendance is expected tomorrow.

Interest is increasing in the Open Forum movement; each meeting of the new year's work, which began in September, has developed much of interest and value. There has not been a failure nor a single disappointing program provided. The questions discussed have been: "The Short Ballot," by Congressman Esch; "The Ethnology of Europe," by Prof. Benezet; "A Discussion of the Industrial Development of Europe Leading up to the Present War," by Prof. Nurse, President Dunn, Editor Candrian and Mr. Benezet; "Preparedness for Defense," by Prof. Fowler; "The Courts," by Judge Baldwin; "Water Power," by Senator Bosshard, and "A. D. 2000," by Prof. Nurse. A discussion of Mr. Boshard's water power speech by the senator and others will be the program for the Sunday after the Elk's Memorial.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

CATARRH LEADS TO CONSUMPTION

Catarrh is as much a blood disease as scrofula or rheumatism. It may be relieved, but it cannot be removed by simply local treatment. It breaks down the general health, weakens the lung tissue, and leads to consumption.

Hood's Sarsaparillt is so successful in the treatment of catarrh that it is known as the best remedy for this disease. It purifies the blood. Ask your druggist for it.

MILLS MASTER OF TECHNIC OF ORGAN

Isidor Tippman Says He Plays with Pure Style and Musicianly Taste; Monotony on Program

(By Isador Tippmann)

The second entertainment of the Brotherhood course of the First Baptist church consisted of an organ recital by Prof. Chas. B. Mills. The professor is an organist of ability and commands a pure style, musicianly taste and good technical equipment. The recitalist opened the entertainment with a brief sketch of the history of musical notation and a description of the mechanism of the organ. The musical part began with the renowned Toccata and Fugue in D minor of Bach, a veritable cathedral in musical sounds, followed by the equally famous Sonata in F minor by Mendelssohn, a Prayer and Berceuse of Guilmant, having much melodic charm and a dazzlingly brilliant Toccata by Dubois. Other interesting smaller organgems by Rheimberger, Scotson Clark, Wolstenholme and Battiste completed the program.

Organ recitals, where no other instrumental or vocal numbers are offered, have an element of monotony about them, which never can be entirely overcome and the question, "What is more tiresome than an organ recital," to which is the answer is, "Two organ recitals," is still alive.

Mr. Mills succeeded by his predominating musicianship and facile exetion to keep his listeners quite interested in what he presented for their entertainment and instruction.

FED PLANS NOT MATURE

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Though President Gilmore of the Feds was expected back in New York from Chicago today, announcement of the Federals' plans for a ball park in Manhattan will not be made until next week. Gilmore wired ahead that a deal for one small parcel of land necessary for the plant is still pending.

Full of humanity and humor. It breathes the spirit of universal good will as does no other novel of recent years. —Philadelphia Press

STATE FOOTBALL TITLE WRANGLE STILL UNSETTLED

Madison Seems to Favor La Crosse After Losing Turkey Day Game

MILWAUKEE PAPERS FOR EAST

Beloit Daily News, However, Leans Toward La Crosse as Champs

The smoke has not yet cleared away.

And until the pall of arguments lifts, the state high schooil football situation will continue to be somewhat clouded, as far as public opinion is concerned.

Madison, whom La Crosse defeated in the last and deciding battle of the year Thanksgiving day, according to the Wisconsin State Journal, favors La Crosse for the state title. Madison has met Milwaukee teams, and therefore is in a position to judge the relative merits of the two teams.

Milwaukee papers, including the Sentinel, Free Press, Journal, Daily News and Wisconsin, are naturally for Milwaukee East as state champions. If preponderance of papers for a team could decide the wrangle, the Cream city boys would get the verdict. La Crosse possesses fewer journals and is, therefore, at a marked disadvantage as regards publicity.

Representative papers of the state outside of Milwaukee, however, appear to be on the side of La Crosse. Besides the Madison State Journal, the Beloit Daily news apparently favors the Red and the Black for the title. Numerous other papers have failed to carry accounts or comment on either the La Crosse-Madison or the Milwaukee East-Ashland game.

Followers of the local team are content that the record of their school will stand up against that of the Milwaukee rival.

NEXT SHOW TO BE MIDDLE OF MONTH

The next boxing show of the Kannia A. C. will be held about the middle of December, Fred W. Harris, president of the club, said today. The exact date has not been set.

Walter L. Kannia, matchmaker of the club, who was unable to attend the last show, being ill with pneumonia, left his bed for the first time on Thursday, according to Harris.

SPARTA "MAN OF MYSTERY" GOES BACK TO ASYLUM

Man Who Didn't Know His Name Is Found to Be Escaped from West Salem

SPARTA, Wis., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—John Pollack, man of mystery, who was found wandering around Thursday afternoon, was returned to the asylum at West Salem yesterday from which he had escaped over a week ago. When found on Oak street Thursday, Pollack was unable to tell his name or give any coherent account of himself. He was taken to the county jail and given berth for the night. Yesterday it was established that he was Pollack, who had escaped from the West Salem asylum last Friday evening. He had got as far as Sparta probably through the hospitality of the farmers along the way. His pockets were packed full of mullen leaves, with which he expected to fill his pipe when they had become sufficiently dried.

TOMAH LAYS PLANS FOR CHARITY BALL

Charitable Society Decides on January Date and Outlines Christmas Giving

TOMAH, Wis., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the Helping Hand society, held yesterday at the home of Mrs. Geo. Warren, it was decided to hold the Charity ball in January instead of December, as was formerly planned.

The society decided to continue their work as they have done for many years by fixing Christmas boxes of clothing and food for the poor families of the city and country. Committees were appointed to be in the Helping Hand rooms over the armory on Dec. 9 and 16, to receive any donations of cash, clothing and food.

Order of Long Standing

This organization has been in existence since 1885, consists of twenty-five members (mostly older ladies) and has always done a great deal of good in this community. Last year a society, who called themselves the Tomah Charities, was organized to co-operate with the Helping Hand. In this way the Helping Hand reached twenty-two city families and ten country families, in all giving a Merry Christmas to 109 children who would not have known of Santa Claus otherwise.

The Sale Shower

The ladies of the Congregational church are about ready for their big sale and supper, which will be held in McCaul's hall, Wednesday, Dec. 1. They met with Mrs. E. Barnes yesterday for the last sewing and Monday evening they will hold the "Church Shower" at the home of Mrs. J. P. Reinhard. The "shower" has been held the Monday evening preceding the sale for several years and is rather unique. It brings together all church members and those interested in the progress of the church. Each one brings some hand made article for the sale and the work which has been made in the society is displayed. This year the sale gives promise of being up to its usual standard.

Personals

Miss Eleanor Voswinkle is spending the week end with her parents. She will return to her school duties at Minneapolis Monday.

Mrs. Allan Homermiller is visiting friends in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Goodyear of Pasadena, Cal., who have been spending the past week visiting friends and relatives here, left today for Chicago. From there they will go to Buffalo and then to Florida to spend the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Goodyear were former residents of this city. Mr. Goodyear is still the senior member of the Goodyear Lumber company, but retired from active work some years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamont Rowlands and daughter, Fannie, of Chicago, are here to spend the week. Paul Rowlands of Blue Bill, Mich., are also here.

Mrs. R. L. Haertel was a Rockland visitor today.

SPOTLIGHTS

CYRIL MAUDE

Direct from the Empire Theater, New York, where he has just finished a second successful Broadway engagement, Mr. Cyril Maude will bring "Grumpy" to the La Crosse Theater Tuesday, Nov. 30. England has not sent to this country in a decade, an actor whose popularity has grown so rapidly and has promised to be so lasting, as that of Mr. Maude. Until he came to America two years ago and scored his wonderful triumph with "Grumpy" at Wallack's Theater, New York, Mr. Maude had confined his professional activities entirely to London. There he was the best known of that country's actor-managers, and he controlled his own theaters and stood in the highest favor with the English theatergoing public. His splendid acting and great charm of manner have duplicated for him, in the United States, the triumphs that were his in his native land. So strong is the appeal of "Grumpy" as played by Mr. Maude, there is no question, should it be his desire, but that it would become to him, what "Rip Van Winkle" was to Joseph Jefferson, and that his place in the regard of our public would be quite as high as was that of the beloved Jefferson. It was only a few weeks ago, upon the occasion of their first appearance together at the theater that President Wilson and Mrs. Galt went to the Empire to see "Grumpy," choosing Mr. Maude's performance, above all others in New York, for their entertainment.

THIS COLUMN IS YOURS AND 'TWILL PAY YOU TO READ

You'll Get Many More Votes if You Read It Every Day for Tips on Your Work

TONIGHT

All 25-vote coupons MUST be voted not later than 8 o'clock TONIGHT. This is FINAL. It is the LAST CHANCE. Don't waste them, VOTE them.

MANAGER.

READ this column. Read it EVERY DAY. You workers are making the mistake of your lives if you miss it. Every day this space is given to practical tips on the art of securing subscribers. It is written by a man who has made the getting of subscribers his BUSINESS for many years. He KNOWS HOW, and he tells YOU how, if you make it a business to read what he says, you will increase your efficiency from twenty-five to fifty per cent.

To get at the work right, you must start with the fundamental that every man does or should read a daily newspaper. If he does not, first show him that he can not afford to be without a daily.

Next, since the person acknowledges that he or she must have a paper, make the point that one should get the BEST newspaper in the field. Then you come to the FACT that the TRIBUNE IS the best newspaper in THIS field.

Here Are the Goods

It is easy to show that the paper which was first in this field to print the German declaration of war on Russia, on France, on England, and the counter declarations; the first to tell of the landing of American marines in Vera Cruz; first by twenty-four hours to tell of the death of the late Pope Pious IX, is the BEST newspaper.

It is easy to show that the paper which has the leased wire United Press telegraph news service, that secures the work of such cartoonists as Briggs, McMannus, Voight and Payne, that gives its readers the Bobbs-Merril novels and the McClure short stories; that furnishes the world's markets every day, that prints the cream of the news from every locality, IS the BEST paper.

That paper is the TRIBUNE.

Don't Forget the Baby

And then you come to YOUR OWN argument. The argument that since they are going to take a paper anyway, and since the TRIBUNE is the BEST newspaper, it costs them not a cent to subscribe NOW, when it will help YOUR BABY secure a great heritage of Gold.

Any worker who will go over this ground with the people he or she meets, everywhere, every day, until the end of this election, can become a SERIOUS CONTENDER for the Grand Prize. This means YOU.

Only 25 Days More. Hurry

Look at the Calendar. LOOK! LOOK. Only twenty-five more days of the Shower of Gold Election. Only TWENTY-FIVE DAYS.

ONLY twenty-five days, and EVERY DAY means DOLLARS for YOUR BABY. How you should use every hour of these days! How you should WORK. You KNOW you should try every person you see for a subscription, and you should be seeing people all the time. DRILL THIS INTO YOUR BRAIN:

A Golden Windfall

There's no other way under the sun in which you can earn so much money in twenty-five days as you can in this election. And you CAN earn it, if you will work. Plan your day. Make each moment tell, each effort score. Don't let one day pass without piling up votes for the Baby. You CAN do it. Then DO it, and give Baby a square deal.

EDWARD BURROWS

Yesterday we mussed up this young man's name. You see, we hadn't met him personally, and we couldn't keep our eyes off the picture long enough to mind the spelling. Master Burrows is the son of Mrs. E. E. Burrows, 421 Vine street. Edward has lots of friends, judging from the number of people who called us up to call us down about his name.

Thank your lucky stars

if you feel that way about it when you get good service from your tires, but there is a deeper and more understandable reason.

The tire that you and every other motorist undoubtedly want most is not the result of hit or miss efforts.

Some great factory has gone to the limit in giving you the best that human ingenuity can produce, and stakes its reputation on the result.

That's how Diamond Tires are built and the great factory behind them is the largest rubber factory in the world.

The horse-shoe was all right to nail over the barn-door, but for the garage four Diamond Tires on the wheels of your car constitute the best omen of good luck we know anything about.

"The Quiet Hour"

Monday, Nov. 28—Peace, Phil. 4:6-8.

Tesuday, Nov. 30.—Praise, Acts 16:25.

Wednesday, Dec. 1—Power, Mark 11:20-26.

Thursday, Dec. 2—Trustfulness, Matt, 11:25-30.

Friday, Dec. 3—Transformation, Matt 17:1-8.

Saturday, Dec. 4—Divine Characteristics, Gal. 5:22-26.

Sunday, Dec. 5—Topic (consecration meeting), "Golden Fruit from the Prayer Life," Heb. 4:14-16, 11:6.

Topic for Sunday, Nov. 28—"Home Mission Work to be Done in Our Commnity," Luke 14:15-25.

The gospel is an invitation. While men need it, they do not seek it; it must be taken to them. Those with most advantages treat the message with indifference. Failure with them means only that the appeal is to be made to those most in need. Even upon them it must be urged. Lack of response is no excuse for giving up effort, which is bound to be rewarded at last.

If it is home mission work to carry the gospel to people, it is none the less so to carry people to the gospel. How many are there within your parish that cannot attend church because of distance, age, infirmity, or some other reason? What could be done to make it easier for such to go to church?

Missionary committee, get busy! Write to United Society for "Mission Helps."

Two leaders, Miss Charlotte Davis and Miss Mildred White will preside at the meeting of the First Presbyterian society, corner Sixth and King streets, at 6:15 p. m.

At the North Presbyterian church, corner Avon and Logan streets, Miss Nellie Carnes will lead the meeting. Time, 6:40 p. m.

Announcements

Junior

The topic for Sunday's junior meeting is "The Memory Supper," Luke 22:14-20.

The juniors of the First Presbyterian church under ten years will meet with the "Junior Band" at 3 o'clock. The Junior C. E. meeting at 4:15 o'clock will be led by Miss Louise Blakely.

Mass Meeting and Contest

The mass meeting held Friday, November 19, was a success. Many items of business were transacted by the Endeavorers among which was an amendment to the constitution admitting the junior superintendents as members of the congress.

The pie eating contest was not so dangerous as expected as no cases of sickness have been reported. All had a good time.

Many thanks are due John Mulder, the north side grocer, for his help with the tickets.

Motto

"Breaths there a man with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said—
This is my own, my native land."

RUNNING EXPENSE THE BIG QUESTION

"How much will it cost me to run my automobile?"

This is the question the average non-motorist of moderate means is asking himself these days. There can be no general answer, declares "Pay as you Ride" Jack Weihaupt of the Rybold and Weihaupt Co., local Maxwell distributors.

The nearest authentic information of the kind is a summary recently prepared by the Maxwell Motor company, Inc., of Detroit, in which are given the actual mileages and running expenses of 53 cars, each of which was run for 1,000 miles in a week in as many different cities of the country.

None of these cars required replacement or repair of any sort. None suffered accident. In every case the expenses were limited to that required for gasoline and oil. Several punctured tires were repaired at current rates. At the end of the run each car was sold for what it would bring, the result definitely establishing the amount of depreciation incident to 1,000 miles of use—more, in all probability, than the average motorist would give a car in three months.

These Maxwell cars averaged 22.3 miles per gallon of gasoline and ran the 1,000 miles on an average of three pints of oil. In dollars and cents, the cost of all this wide range of running figured exactly $.0051 per mile—slightly over a half a cent.

Of course, these figures were the result of a wide-spread series of tests in a light car. The Maxwell's lightness undoubtedly played an important part in the remarkable fuel efficiency results attained. This is also true of the light tire wear incident to these tests after several of which tire experts pronounced the tires as good as new.

Tire wear, depreciation and all expense included, the results of the tabulation seem to plainly show that the average Maxwellite's motoring expense should be somewhere near one cent per mile, and is as likely to be under this figure as over it.

Beside the removal of Dr. White, the board cut salaries of other officials in county institutions more than $2,300.

SEX BOOKS BLAMED FOR EFFEMINACY

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Most of the sissies and mollycoddles among boys and young men of the present generation, according to J. W. Searson, English professor at Kansas state agricultural college, were made so by the flood of sex literature. Nick Carter, Old King Brady, Diamond Dick and Jesse James stories, Professor Searson told the national council of English teachers, in session here today, are far superior to the sex literature.

"Let your boy read Diamond Dick, Old King Brady, and the rest of the nickel brand," said Searson. "It will create a hunger for stories like Ivanhoe, the writings of Cooper, and the writings of Poe and Stevenson."

TURKEY CAUSES FAST BREAK

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 27.—Arthur Hauser, accused murderer of W. H. Smith, national cashier of the Woodmen of the World, who has been on a hunger strike for sixteen days, on Thursday was unable to resist a Salvation Army Thanksgiving basket and ate a little turkey and "trimmings."

He complained of feeling ill yesterday and announced that he would resume the hunger strike.

PULLMAN COUPE PRIZE FOR BEAUTY

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 27.—Atlanta has just celebrated her greatest gala week, the Harvest Festival, in which the entire southeast took an active part, drawing thousands of visitors from all over the country. A week of nightly carnivals culminated with the election of Miss Regina Rambo of Marietta, a noted beauty and a member of a distinguished family, as queen of the festival.

A Pullman DeLuxe Coupe, the luxurious car for women, built by the Pullman Motor Car Company, York, Pa., was selected by the Festival committee, appointed by the state of Georgia for the purpose, as a fitting gift for the prettiest and most popular girl in a state noted for its beauties.

When the committee first looked upon the new Pullman coupe in the Atlanta show rooms, their minds were well nigh made up on the spot, but they, nevertheless, visited the rest of the show rooms, but finally came back for one last look at the Pullman. A vote was taken and the manager of the local office was informed the committee had selected the Pullman coupe upon the honest conviction that it was the prettiest and most serviceable coupe they had been able to find for the money.

And so it was that the Pullman was selected to be the principal prize of the week.

Thus it may be seen that the Pullman coupe was not won for a song. More than 300,000 votes were cast.

Miss Regina Rambo, the winner of the Pullman coupe and the queen of the festival, is one of the prettiest women of the southeast, and for several seasons past has been extremely popular in society centers of the entire south. She is, withal, an expert motorist, having driven her own car to a record on a number of very difficult tours in the south.

By far the most brilliant event of Harvest Festival week was the presentation of the Pullman coupe to the queen upon Monday night of the Festival week. At the Atlanta auditorium, in the presence of 7,000 people, Miss Rambo was crowned queen of the festival with elaborate and beautiful ceremonies. When she had been escorted to her throne, twelve leading citizens of the state entered the vast floor drawing the beautiful Pullman coupe by ribbons. The coupe, glistening like a jewel, was paraded before the society boxes for inspection and then was drawn up before the queen's throne for presentation to Her Majesty, the Queen.

It was the first sight the Queen had had of the car, and the great audience heartily applauded her as she was apparently swept away by the beauty and elegance of the reward for her popularity and the great race she had made.

The Queen and King stepped into the coupe, a Pullman expert gave her Majesty a few hurried pointers about handling the car and in a moment she drove around the big arena adeftly as if she had had the car for years.

"I am overwhelmed by this gift," she told the presentation committee. "I always wanted a beautiful coupe and I always have wanted the best. I know I have it now."

And the thousands in the audience evidently agreed with her, for she drew another great round of applause.

Miss Rambo, in her official capacity as Queen, rode in all the parades during the week, and she always rode in and drove—herself—her prize Pullman coupe.

CHANCE MISSED TO SOLIDIFY WORLD LAW SAYS CARSON

LONDON, Nov. 27.—"Neutrals have failed, in my opinion, to seize a tremendous, God-given opportunity to safeguard international law, civilization and humanity," said Sir Edward Carson today, in discussing the war before the American Luncheon club.

Carson, who recently resigned as attorney general because he did not consider the government's war policy vigorous enough, did not specifically name the United States in his criticism.

"Although the great luminous notes sent by neutral governments doubtless were perfectly sound in law and probably salved the consciences of their own citizens," continued Carson, "I am afraid they have not been based on a broad conception of the underlying issues of the present struggle.

"Neutrals ought to remember that if this war is allowed to end without a triumph of the principles so dear to all free peoples, the very best that can be hoped will be an era of armed peace and of colossal armaments, greater and more costly than ever."

In closing, Carson, acknowledged a debt of gratitude owed by the allies to the United States for such help as they have received from her, though he admitted that they had looked for more active support.

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach or bowels.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

War Office News of Fighting

PARIS

PARIS, Nov. 27.—By releasing clouds of asphyxiating gas along the front between Forges and Bethincourt Friday night, the Germans gave the French the impression that a general assault was about to begin. The French troops were on the alert to repel it but no attack followed, the official communique announced today.

In the Mause region and elsewhere, said the report, conditions are unchanged.

"A French military aeroplane fell into the river Aisine but the two airmen with it swam ashore."

"Whys" of Moves in European War

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The first positive indication that Germany doubts her ability to impose a war indemnity on her enemies, is contained in reports from Berlin that the government intends to levy new taxes for war purposes.

Hitherto Germany has paid for the war exclusively on borrowed money. Last August the minister of finance, Dr. Helfferich, stated no war taxation would be levied on the German people because the expenses of the war would be met by an indemnity exacted from the entente powers. It was this declaration which five days later brought from Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign minister, his famous announcement that as long as Germany was fighting for "supremacy and tribute, the war must go on."

The introduction of a government bill at the coming session of the Reichstag, imposing new imperial taxes, would not be considered by the kaiser's government, unless the most pressing necessity for this course had arisen. Dr. Helfferich's public promise that no war taxation would be levied was made only three months ago and did much to establish a feeling of deep confidence among Germans that the outcome of the war must be wholly favorable to Germany. For the government to retire from this position and to send the tax collector on new rounds, will inevitably have a depressing effect on the German people.

Germany must now begin to count the cost of conducting the war in terms not only of present losses, but also of future financial depression. The belief that has prevailed since the war began that the whole monetary cost of the conflict would fall on Germany's enemies can no longer be maintained, if war taxes are imposed. Doubt must begin to arise concerning the fruits of all the victories that the German armies have won. To the frightful casualties among Germany's young manhood and to the food and economic sacrifices which German civilians are now bearing, must be added the burden of new taxes which, once imposed, will probably not be raised by a generation. This may become the final straw for German militarism.

MAKES MUCH CHEESE

One hundred and fifty-three factories, three big condensers, three creameries and 38,992 cows, (which is 16,000 more cows than humans in the county) helped make the cheese.

U. S. EXPORTS MAY SET WORLD RECORD

Exports for Year Will Probably Aggregate More Than Four Billions

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—By the end of the year the United States will probably have broken all records for all nations in foreign trade. It will have surpassed Great Britain's greatest year of export business. American exports will probably reach $4,000,000,000.

For the twelve months ending with October the United States has exported goods worth $3,318,614,636. This figure sets a new American record for exports—the greatest foreign trade in American history.

On the other side of the ledger, the imports for October alone—$334,638,578, were also a new high record.

It was in speculating on the possibility of thus breaking all records that Secretary of Commerce Redfield today scouted the possibility of there being any big slump in American foreign trade at the close of the war, due to the cutting off of the trade in munitions of war.

"In considering the state of business, there is too much of a tendency," he said, "to view 'the preponderance of the visible,'—to coin an ungrammatical phrase. We should look beyond immediate causes and immediate effects into the future. Foreign nations after the war will come to us for their machinery, their steel, their railroad stock and other supplies. In the meantime, if I am not mistaken, the United States will set a new world's record for foreign business."

The bureau of domestic and foreign commerce today pointed out that for the year ending with October American imports totalled $1,691,748,013, compared with $1,880,414,501 in the preceding period. The total of all American foreign trade, traffic, achieved a new high record of $5,010,382,649 in the twelve months ending with October.

PLAN IS GREAT SAYS MISS ADDAMS

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 27.—"The best plan yet proposed for creating peace sentiment in Europe."

Such was Jane Addams' characterization of Henry Ford's "peace ship" scheme. Miss Addams, who addressed the Women's peace meeting in the Detroit armory at noon yesterday stated definitely that she would attend the peace conference at Ford's invitation.

"Press dispatches indicate that a very wrong impression has taken possession of the world with regard to Ford's peace ship and its mission," Miss Addams said. "The whole thing has been made to appear as a sort of 'We will fix it' party and those interested in the peace movement have been made to appear a lot of busy bodies.

"The real trouble has been that the aim of the pacificsts has not been given truthful publicity either in America or in Europe."
